David talking to Islanders

The question is how best to achieve the Police and Crime Commissioner's top priority of protecting the public and to reduce all criminal behaviour? David's top three priorities to do this are:

- 1. Neighbourhood Policing - keeping officers on the frontline and building strong community links is the best way to tackle all crime.
- 2. Better & smarter technology - as a chartered engineer David knows about being smarter with technology. It will get officers out in the community and keep them better informed to tackle crime.
- 3. Greater cooperation - Police tackle law enforcement but teamwork with the community and other agencies is essential. It's all our task to prevent crime, to ensure justice for victims and to rehabilitate offenders to stop further crime.

For the Island the Police force needs :-

- More flexibility to cope with the annual influx each summer and the special events, like the Island Pop Festival and Cowes Week
- More resources to help reduce the number of road deaths
- Local Police & Crime plans to meet every Community's needs

Why David? Well he:-

- ✓ has experience for the job gained in over 30 years in industry
- ✓ is a local chap, who wants practical answers not sound bites
- ✓ has 16 years experience as a project manager, used to budgets, plans, goal setting, making critical decisions and managing people
- ✓ has 10 years experience has Councillor and a school Governor
- ✓ is a policeman's son and brother interested in improving policing
- ✓ is a father of twins who just wants a better place for his boys
